Allowed Foods List

Please eat any food in this list. This is your allowed foods list for the programme.

It has been formulated to be low-allergenic, anti-inflammatory, low carbohydrate and supportive of the body's blood sugar regulation and hormonal response.

You may choose to make your own recipes using the foods listed here, or you may choose to follow the The Recipes during the 30 days.

Please feel free to share any delicious recipes with us using the allowed foods.

Try to eat as many vegetables and salads as you can alongside a protein source, making the vegetables the majority of your plate.

If you don't usually make all your meals from scratch, take your time, follow the recipes step by step and enjoy getting back in touch with your food again.

If you eat out, follow the allowed foods list for guidance. Try to cook as much of your own food as you can, as these 30 days are all about nurturing a healthy relationship with your food again.

Most of all, be kind to yourself and enjoy the process.

Please note: even though cheese is on the list, you may wish to avoid it this month to see how your body responds, especially if you eat lots of it usually. Cheese is included for vegetarians who wish not to rely solely on eggs, tofu and legumes for protein. Listen to your body!
